

David Mitchell

Whether your application is for length, volume colour enhancement or simply to update your current style, this revolutionary system will harmonize beautifully with your natural strands without ever displaying the visible tell-tale signs that are so common with other extension systems. There are no styling limitations, no heavy-duty maintenance regimens. Great Lengths extensions at David Mitchell looks and feels very much like your hair, because of its unique bonding method and our high quality blending and application standards.

The Great Lengths system uses only 100% human hair. Gathered in India and processed in Italy so that all cuticle layers are aligned in the same direction, with every strand uniform in colour, texture and diameter. Each strand is pre-bonded with a patented protein polymer a compound that mimics the human hair's molecular structure. An advanced applicator tong is used to soften the bond so it can be moulded to your natural hair. Unlike other systems, where glue guns and wax melting pots are used, the applicator allows for a very clean and precise application. The result is undetectable attachments that are brushable, durable and most importantly, non-damaging to your natural hair strands.

Great Lengths produces strands in over 40 different shades, additionally, at David Mitchell we can pre-colour or pre-tone your hair and/or your extensions with our non-peroxide, enzyme hair colouring method for a perfect result. A Unique, patented de-pigmentation process similar to that used in the textile industry allows for the de-pigmentation of Great Lengths human hair strands without the use of harmful bleach. This process maintains the integrity of the hair with no damage to the cuticle layer or the strand interior. The result is beautiful, colourfast strands with a soft, luxurious feel and luminous shine; even on high lift blondes!
